BETTER REGULATION & FAIR TRADING

Consumer Protection and Disciplinary Actions

- (60) Can the Minister provide details on the number of qualified supervisors disciplined under the Home Building Act during the financial years 22/23 and 23/24 for improper conduct?
- (61) Specifically, how many cases involved specialists in the fields of electrical wiring, refrigeration, air-conditioning, plumbing, gas fitting and LP gas fitting?
- (62) What steps is the department taking to enhance the detection and handling of improper conduct among specialists to prevent consumer harm?

Disciplinary actions against Electrical Contractors

- (63) How many electrical contractors were disciplined under the Home Building Act during FYs 22/23 and 23/24 for improper conduct related to non-compliance with their duties under the WHS Act/Regulations, particularly concerning energised electrical work?
- (64) The Queensland Office of Industrial Relations issued suspensions or cancellations to license holders in around 100 cases over approximately 15 months, many associated with serious electrical incidents, electric shocks, serious defects, significant property damage, incidents involving young workers, and repeat offenders. How does NSW compare, and what measures are in place to address non-compliance effectively?

Residential Tenancy Protections

- (65) Given the budget's emphasis on housing, what initiatives are being implemented to enhance protections for tenants, particularly regarding fair trading and dispute resolution?
- (66) How will these initiatives improve tenant rights and dispute resolution processes, and what outcomes are anticipated for tenants?

Fair Trading Resources and Staffing

- (67) Given the complexity and high costs associated with motor vehicle repairs, how will the government address the shortage of Fair Trading inspectors who handle these disputes?
- (68) What measures are being taken to ensure that the number of inspectors meets the actual demand for mediation and technical expertise?
- (69) What strategies are being implemented to improve the staffing levels and remuneration for Fair Trading inspectors to ensure they can effectively manage and resolve repair disputes?

Regulation of Automotive Repair Sector

- (70) What steps are being taken to strengthen the regulation of the automotive repair sector to prevent issues such as poor diagnosis and communication breakdowns?
- (71) How will these regulatory changes ensure that both consumers and industry members receive fair treatment?
- (72) How will these enhancements address current gaps and improve overall standards within the automotive repair industry?

Fair Trading's Impact on Consumer Protection:

- (73) How does the government plan to improve consumer protection in the automotive repair sector, especially in light of the current staffing shortages?
- (74) What initiatives are in place to ensure that consumers have access to fair resolution processes?
- (75) How will these initiatives enhance consumer protection and what outcomes are anticipated in terms of resolving disputes and improving service quality?

- (76) When we signed with ANSA Homes, they were already classified as a "Builder of Concern" by Fair Trading, having breached over ten rectification orders. However, this information was not available to the public. Why isn't there a publicly accessible portal or information source to identify builders who have breached multiple rectification orders?
- (77) After posting a negative review of ANSA Homes, we were threatened, and work on our property was halted. We've since learned that this is a common tactic used by the management of ANSA Homes, which explains the lack of negative reviews. What measures will be put in place to prevent builders from intimidating clients?
- (78) During each stage of a build, an inspector issues a certificate to indicate compliance with relevant codes (e.g., Slab, Frame, etc.). It appears ANSA Homes did not upload these certificates on time, suggesting further issues with the build process. Why is there no system within Fair Trading to ensure that certificates are uploaded to the portal on time?

INDUSTRY & TRADE

Defence Industry
